

ALOÏS BOMBARDIER

UI / UX graphic designer

During my studies at the reputed school of Gobelins, France, I obtained 2 years experience as a graphic designer through studying in a “sandwich” course – which consists of alternating weeks of working in a company and studying in school.

During this time, I learned how to work on a team for a multimedia project - from concept to graphic execution, including the consideration of ergonomic principles in order to ensure a quality user experience.
